

For Immediate Release:

Pathfinder Federal Credit Union is proud to announce we will be merging with Families First Federal Credit Union effective November 30, 2018. This is an exciting merger for two companies who, above all else, share the belief that the relationships they build are the true barometers of their success.

The membership of Families First FCU has voted to merge with the membership of Pathfinder FCU in Casper, WY. This merger will provide new opportunities and services to the members of the credit union. The merger was originally approved unanimously by the FFFCU Board of Directors and had a 97% approval rate by the membership.

“We look forward to serving the members of Families First Federal Credit Union,” says Tyler Disburg, President/CEO of Pathfinder. “The merger will benefit the members of Families First Federal Credit Union by expanding the services offered and providing additional locations.”

The combined credit union will hold $43.3 million in assets and serve 4600 members with a total of three branches located in Casper, Greybull and Powell.

Since 1954, Pathfinder Federal Credit Union has been building relationships with clients from all across Wyoming, including Greybull, Powell and Casper. The addition of Families First Federal Credit Union provides an opportunity to extend its services to more Wyomingites. These services include home loans, personal loans, motorcycle loans, credit life insurance, credit disability services, safety deposit boxes and more.

“This partnership with Families First Federal Credit Union is an exciting one for all parties involved,” said Pathfinder FCU CEO Tyler Disburg. “The reputation of Families First speaks for itself and the loyalty of their clients is unmatched. We will continue to display the same standards of excellence that they have provided for years and we will also, most importantly, continue to cultivate the relationships that have been developed by the excellent team at Families First.”

“This is one of the many exciting transitions that we are embarking on,” Disburg continued. We recently changed our name from River-Rail Community to Pathfinder Federal Credit Union to be more inclusive of the communities we serve. Additionally, we have relocated our headquarters to the Wyoming Financial Building at 400 East First. The relocation has offered our membership a world class experience from a new widened and video drive up to having our entire Casper area team under one roof.

In 2019, Pathfinder will be migrating to industry best payments technology allowing members to easily control their access to accounts with their handheld smartphone, wherever they are.
